	There are many people to thank for recordings and discography details. Information has been gathered from original records from the National Film and Sound Archive, National Library of Australia, State Library of Victoria, the Victorian Performing Arts Museum, family collections, compilations put together by Bill Leddin and Geoffrey Orr, and Ken Snell's Australian Popular Music Index . Many recordings were digitised by Bill Armstrong and Geoffrey Orr, who have shown exemplary generosity over the last decade. Some were remastered by Jamie Kelly and others shared their collections and information, directly or indirectly, including Frank Van Straten, Peter Burgis, Roger Beilby, John Ferguson, Chris Long, Ian Dodds, Greg Coe, Ian Grieve, Ken Bones and Ian Halliday. Thanks to Maurice Austin for the rare recording of Jack O'Hagan and Fred Witt singing 'Gundagai'.	153 recordings including: - 89 recordings of songs by others - 27 of his own songs - 5 songs recorded on short film 'Jack O'Hagan Vocalist Composer' - 14 radio broadcast songs - 1 radio play - 17 unissued recordings	Jack made: - 3 private recordings - 6 records as part of the band Those Three Fellows - 8 releases under nom de plumes: 2 Frankie Quinlan on Embassy 2 Anthony Hall on Savoy 4 Albert Davis on Arcadia and Savoy
